

ABSTRACT

1

2

3 A system and method for providing electronic mass multimedia data transfer 4 from a central data source of multimedia data simultaneously to numerous 5 geographically dispersed subscribers having personal computers, further 6 providing information to each subscriber based exclusively on the proved
7 interests of that individual subscriber. In particular, the invention is well-
8 suited as an improved method for distributing newspapers and multimedia 9 content.